WEDNESDAY EVENUSG, MAR. 1, 1905.

Little Girl Tossed by Bull. A runaway bull on North avenue at the beginning of Walbrook, Baltimore, injured a little girl while attempting to GARDNER L. BOOTHE, Second Vice President. gore her yesterday afternoon and created great excitement along that thoroughfare until the animal was finally driven into a farm on the Liberty road. The PARK AGNEW, bull broke away from the yard of a butcher on North near Pennsylvania avenue and started up the avenue, caus-ing pedestrians to seek places of safety. As the bull started off it was pursued by a number of men armed with various weapons, including pitchforks, pistols and guns, but distanced the pursuers.

At First street and North avenue little Florence Bell was on the pavement a few squares from her home, at 2527 west North avenue. The bull saw the child and attacked her. The little girl ran, but was unable to escape from the infuriated animal, which rushed at her with lowered horns and tossed her.
Fortunately for the child, the horns of the bull did not pierce her, but caught in her clothing. She was tossed in the air, but her fall was broken by a barbed wire fence, which held her until those who had witnessed the affair ran up and released her. She was placed in a wagen and removed to her home. It was found that she was bruised and that her garments were torn, but she did not pear to be injured seriously by the try ng experience, although she was suffer ing from shock. Meanwhile the men oursuing the animal arrived, and the bull was driven into a field and there secured.

The same bull, or another one, knocked down and injured two men some little distance from where the girl was

Stuttering Children,

A special department for the instruction of stuttering children has been es-tablished in the public schools of Vienna, according to a report received by th State Department from U. S. Consul-General Rublee. "The number of pupils in each class is limited to eight," writes Mr. Rublee, "and the children are to withdraw from other school attendance, as it is essential that they devote themselves exclusively to the course for the cure of stuttering. In order to be admitted to the classes, the pupils nust present medical certificates that they are free from any organic disease that would interfere with the purpose of the instruction. During the period of the special instruction it is necessary that the children have a separate room at home where they can practice the exercises given them without any dis-turbances whatever. The parents must undertake to have the children practice their exercises at home at least four hours daily, and during the first two weeks must not allow them to speak at all except to practice the exercises prescribed by the course of instruction. At the end of five weeks the instructor brings each pupil back to his regular school and indicates to the teacher what has been accomplished besides giving advice concerning his further instruc-

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided by keeping their digestion in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Benucktwille, S. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." E. S.
